Today (for Indians festival of learning

➢ Ideal day to start a Workshop "To enlighten people on OSS"
➢ Like early civilizations:

- Aztec Quetzalcoatl was the god of learning. A wise god, depicted as a magnificent feathered serpent.
- Thoth, the Egyptians thought to be scribe to the gods, who kept a great library of scrolls. He was associated by the Egyptians with speech, literature, arts, learning.
- Minerva was the Roman goddess of wisdom, intelligence and learning.
- Pallas Athena, Greek Goddess of learning and civilization.
- Tenjin, Japanese God of learning, language and calligraphy. He taught humans to write.
- India Sarasvatî Devî (Thuyathadi in Burmese and Benzaiten in Japanese meaning "flowing water" or "eloquence,") is also the goddess of eloquence, learning, writing, in short of general culture. Also known as "Bharathi" (Goddess of learning).

➢ Ideal day to pray:
"Tamasoma Jyothir Gamaya" in Sanskrit meaning "Oh God, May you lead us From darkness to brightness"

Welcome to the Asia OSS site. This site is FOR YOU BY YOU. You decide what we should or should not do here. Please spend some time to register yourself, and log in to join in the discussions.

Asia is a melting pot of different culture and different economies. In the spirit of Open Source, we believe that open source software advocacy should be led by the community for the community, and aggregating the efforts of different open source leaders across the Asia continent. Do share with us your stories, and your experience advocating, teaching and even using open source in your country.

Course Materials Development

Five working groups prepare and evaluating training materials.

- Group #1: Linux Desktops & Distribution, Localization, Internationalization (I18n) & OpenOffice
- Group #2: System Admin & Networking
- Group #3: Linux Security, Firewall, Squid...
- Group #4: Apache + MySQL + PHP
- Group #5: Linux Internals, Embedded LINUX and related developments

Resources

- Generous funding from CICC for HR activities
- Support and sponsorship from partnering organizations such as SMU, NECTEC, MNCC, OUM and CDAC
- All participants who help in making training materials and conducting training programs

Benefits to participants

➢ Networking among Asian countries

➢ Learn from solutions developed by other countries

➢ Create a pool of trained man power (from asians by asians for asians)

➢ Tested course material

Through Peer Review Model

Aim

- To identify and create a pool of talented people in a specific area
- To introduce alumni with their skill set, contact details in the AOSS website
- AOSS alumni can interact with the experts and solve their issues and getting proper guidance
- a new member can join with an appropriate specialized group

Peer Review Model – Core Skills

Primarily 5 different Group

➢ Linux Desktops & Distribution, Localization, Internationalization (I18n) & OpenOffice

➢ System Admin & Networking

➢ Linux Security, Firewall, Squid...

➢ Apache_MySQL_PHP

➢ Linux Internals and Embedded LINUX

Peer Review Model - Applied Skills

- Enterprise (ex: ERP/CRM)
- Content Management
- Web services
- E – governance
- Data mining / Warehousing
- Migration
- Interoperability

Peer Review Model – Soft Skills

- ➢ Project Management
- ➢ Advocacy of OSS
- ➢ Evangelism

Peer Review Model

➢ Initially peer review committee will be formed to place Alumni to group Alumin under different skill set.

➢ Then as a next step, they can be placed in a suitable level: For example – developer, specialist and evangelist

What to expect from Workshop?

➤ It is a workshop,
  - learning more by doing rather than listening

➤ Attitude "Let me do" rather than "This should be done"

➤ OSS is all about sharing. Everyone brings some thing and shared among all. So, knowledge multiplied.
  - If you come with nothing, you have to go back empty handed!

How this workshop will run?

➤ We have 28 new members joining 27existing members!

➤ Each new member will learn about OSS from an old member

➤ Can ask 9 SMU student members also

Organizers are going to take rest !!!

Not exactly so

Course Material Working Groups

Course Working Groups

➤ Apache+MySQL+PHP

➤ Enterprise OSS applications ERP CRM

➤ Scripting(PHP), middleware and related system applications

➤ Software Development for WEB2.0 frameworks: Symfony and CakePHP

Working

➢ Some Members have assigned the group

➢ Members can change the groups if needed according to there interest and experience

➢ Members should identify there leader

Working

➢ Leader will represent the group working

➢ Members should give there full support and dedication to group leader

➢ You should start from previous work if it is present

Formula

- Each groups should learn eXe software
- Day1 : Standardize the format (include "Objective","Contents","Exercise" and "Quiz")
- Day2: Prepare exercise and quiz
  - Convert work into eXe
- Day3: Consolidate all 3 sections into 1 file
